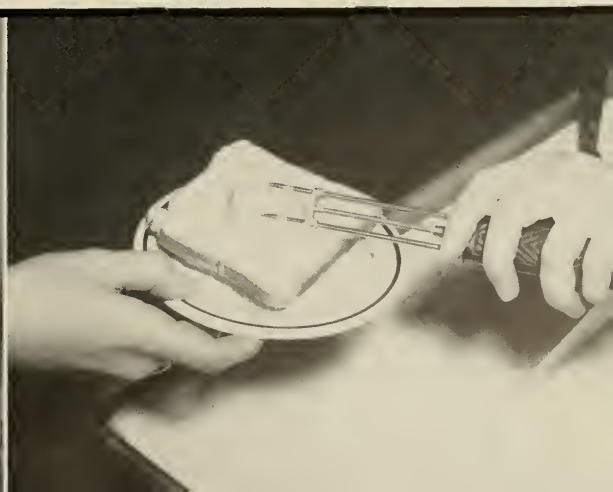
Our memories of . . .

life second to none.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1945 . . . An alarm clock begins its career; then a strange voice muffles a good morning. W. C. . . . I'm here to stay. What time is breakfast? Where did that girl say I was supposed to be? Where is the Science Building?

By the time we'd borne Orientation Week, we knew what it was all about. South was the best dining hall; don't you dare get Dr. _____ for _____; certainly they file the posture pictures!

This confidence was shaken a little by amoebas, history outlines, and permission slips. After a few weeks, though, we dared to emerge from the Freshman Reserve Room and began to indulge in Bull Sessions. We talked about the families and towns we had just left with a strange, new, objectivity and griped about the work in a most accomplished fashion.



We undressed, dressed and played volley ball for 20 minutes, murdered frogs, followed rats around a cage, wrote and wrote and read (we knew what a concrete word was all right—concrete= book). Then people started talking about lectures, music programs, Arts Forum. Doesn't W. C. offer a lot of opportunities we said, blithely unaware of the students and teachers who had given their life's-blood to bring about the "opportunities."

Then we got to work on Cary, or the legislature or a dance committee, and found out how painfully the miracles came about. We got to know the faculty and found out to our surprise that they were not only well-adjusted persons but most satisfying friends.

For the 1949 Pine Needles, we have tried to show those things which Woman's College has come to mean to us. It is no longer an institution which has set out to cram facts and job-knowledge into 2200 girls; it is community in which we must find our places and to whose on-going each individual must contribute. By junior and senior year we think that we are W. C. Then on rare occasions like Alumnae Day we know we're just a few in the endless stream of W. C. students and we are grateful for having had our four years here. . . .

Living and Learning.

Dr. Walter Clinton Jackson

That Familiar Gesture

To Dr. Walter Clinton Jackson, for fifteen years the administrative director of the Woman's College, we the Senior Class, joined by the entire student body and faculty, express our deep appreciation for his service, his interest, his love, his friendship and his loyalty. For his significant role in the evolution of the Woman's College to its present position of prominence among women's colleges of the nation, for his standards of scholastic excellence, for his friendly dignity that has made all of us feel at home in this community, we acknowledge a sincere debt. When we think of the tolerance, the friendliness, the genuineness of this college community, we shall always think of Dr. "Woman's College" Jackson, our guide and our friend.

Chancellor Walter C. Jackson

GOVERNOR W. KERR SCOTT

just beginning his term as the governor of the State of North Carolina. has long been interested in the University and its development. We hope to see and hear more from him, and we believe that having had a daughter in school here will give us a warm spot in his heart.

DR. WALTER C. JACKSON

after sixteen years as our Chancellor, is leaving Woman's College this year a finer, more widely known and respected institution. With him will go our appreciation for his service to us, and with us will remain the memory of his sincere interest in each of us and his often repeated statement that he was addressing "the finest 2000 young women in the world".

MR. WILLIAM D. CARMICHAEL

Comptroller of the University, is a man with a difficult job but one well done. His visits, though too few and far between, are a boost to our morale and to his own popularity with the girls of Woman's College.

Class Song

Onward Senior Class of '49
Stand and proudly sing.
Let's all pledge our faith and loyalty.
Praise to her and honor bring.

Undaunted girls, march on with faith.
Your future lies beyond these gates.
Stand up and smile; your school's worthwhile.
Do what you can to make it great.

Sister Song

May God build for you a harmony
That will be both great and strong.
Making all your life a melody
And every day a song.

For it's here in our hearts, oh sisters dear,
And we sing it now to you.
We love you; yes we love you.
We love college and that means you.

"Onward Senior Class of '49..."

Our Adopted Polish Orphan.

. . . and after four years of singing that phrase of our class song, we do move on—we move on to practice what we have learned in the rooms of McIver, the cubby holes of the Ad Building, the recital halls of the Music Building, the laboratories of the Science and Home Ec Buildings, and the classrooms of Curry School. We move on to give our place to the yearlings that are to come after us. We like to feel that no one can take our place, but we do know one thing for sure—no one can take our memories.

No one can take away that rainy Monday in September of '45 when over 500 prospective 49'ers carried armfuls of clothes, tennis racquets, high school annuals, lamps, and pictures to vacant, haunted-looking rooms. How was this ever to be home? But home it became, and home it has been for four years. And fun and happiness and love of W.C. made it so. What were the magic experiences that turned four barren walls and a group of 500 strange girls into a way of life—a way of life that now leaves its home and moves into a greater and wider existence?

Back Stage at That Wonderful Junior Minstrel Show.

Blue Jackets and Whistles Guard the Grass.

And who could forget the posture pictures, the physical in the Infirmary when only a white sheet prevented sheer mortification. Then came exams, and biology and English were on the same day. The path to the Library lengthened and led to Bert's and the Grill where "Prisoner of Love" was the top tune on the wall juke boxes. It was the class of '49 that revolutionized class elections with unique posters covering the whole campus. And on April 13 jean-clad freshmen decorated the gym for "April Showers," the freshman formal. We were no longer lowly; for in a few weeks we rushed from the balcony to get first floor chapel seats, but even we cried as those girls who had known all marched out of Aycock. We would never be so dignified as they.

But the blue ribbon on the white pole moved up and with it we moved from secluded freshmen dorms and rules into the realm of the "upperclass". We all practically died from lack of sleep 'cause bridge games and bull sessions after 11 o'clock were far too tempting. But what always amazed us was that the upperclassman reserve room never was so crowded as the freshman one.

Then in December we knew definitely that we were no longer green. we had our blue, the prettiest blue ever, jackets to hide all inferior feelings. The real event the sophomore 49'ers experienced was the party in the gym for the seniors, the sister class. Class Chairman Dr. Gangstad, in her new spring hat, paraded in with George and Dean Taylor did the "can-can". "We the class of '47 do . . ." rang through the gym crowded with sister seniors and sophomores. Our big sisters were about to leave us. Before long we were dressed in white carrying the daisy chain while the girls who had advised us since we hit the campus walked solemnly through the flower-made aisle. And again the blue ribbon moved one step higher.

In the fall of '47 we came back as Junior Advisers, answering the same questions we ourselves had asked two years before—"It's the Norway maple." "Yes, freshmen too can use the Recreational Reading Room." After looking up to other students for two years, we knew something and were being looked to for help. When registration came, we signed up for our majors; and we decided in which fields we would specialize. Many, too, had made up their minds about pins, diamonds, and wedding rings. That junior fall was highlighted with the "Harvest Moon" formal and the Duke-Carolina week-end which was followed by a University Sermon speaker, Dr. Cleland of Duke University. And that Sunday he made that remark of all remarks: "Justice still prevails."

Then in February we saw birth of the Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum as experts and leaders in the field of the social sciences discussed "The Nature of the Social Crisis."

Lula Shepherd, Dance Chairman and Barbara Apostaloeus, Class President and Autumn Leaves.

Mr. Phillips, the Senior's Special Friend.

February gave way to March and the Junior Minstrel. Curtain going up—and 150 black-faced juniors dressed in white pants, junior jackets, colored scarfs, and white gloves, literally awed a capacity crowd at Aycock with "Hello You People." "Dixie," and "Waiting on the Robert E. Lee." The end-men surprised all—even themselves. The class, the 49'ers, cleared $300, enough to support the Polish orphan and to lay definite plans for a bang-up Junior-Senior—our first college Junior-Senior.

Then was about time for us to sit on the sidelines for the last time at graduation. And full realization came after we had rushed to the first rows of Aycock and we knew the next change of chapel seats would leave us without one. At that same mass meeting, S. G. A. President, Martha Fowler, took over; and the green and weak ranks of three years before were holding and guiding the reigns of Student Government. There was no one left to look up to. The blue ribbon was on top.

And this is it; this is our last year. We've tried to make every minute count and every impression last. How changed it all is from the way it was when we drifted in that rainy September Monday. Little Guilford is gone, and the rickety steps leading to the News Bureau have given way to the well-lighted cement steps leading to the back of the "Hubbub." The laundry, the first building we saw when we came (and we wondered if clothes could really get clean in there), is a ghost building where only emergency calls come through after 10 o'clock. The Tuesday band of hundreds of girls walking leisurely up Walker Avenue, to impress the city of the definite need for closing the street, has changed into a massive orange steel structure that in 1950 will be the Library. We won't get to use it; we won't be here, but we will always remember the six inch hole Dr. Jackson drilled in September of '48 as a beginning for the Library. Not only has the campus changed, but the personnel. We mourned the loss of Dean Harriet Elliott who had stood on Aycock stage in that familiar green suit and emphasized "Responsible Freedom." And in June, when we leave for good, we take Dr. Jackson with us. Remember when he offered a reward to the girl who after five years could truthfully say her education had been impaired by the loss of one week of school because of polio. Yes, W. C. has changed, but the new faces that move in to replace the old ones are as susceptible as we to the "spirit" that breathes life into the Woman's College.

Only a few days more are left to us, are left to our senior year—but there it is—the Senior Formal, co-ordinating, the 9 o'clock coffee in the Soda Shop, dining hall work, the corner, the lost P. O. key, house meeting, dorm parties, and a host of things done for the last time.

Before long the green ribbon will displace the blue and be on top—that's the same green ribbon that gave us our first boost, but as our blue moves down to the lowest peg on the white pole, and as we listen to "May God build for you a harmony," we know for certain that . . .

We cannot forget . . .

The Class of '50

Class Song

Working with will and aspiration
With achievement as our aim,
We'll move forward Class of '50
To the goal we must attain.

Chorus:

Keep in sight, Green and White,
All of the standards set by the best class yet.
Honor and fame bring to the name
Of the school we won't forget.
Yes, we are equal to the challenge
For we're well prepared to be.
W. C. has shown us wisdom
And we love her rightfully.

SOPHOMORES

The Class of '51

Class Song

Here's to the class none can surpass;
We'll never be outdone;
Our love and pride can't de denied
For the Class of '51.

Chorus:
The best that W. C. has known,
Class of '51, march on!

Keep well in sight both red and white
Our colors bold and clear;
Loyal are we to W. C.,
Forever hold it dear.

Chorus:
The best that W. C. has known,
Class of '51, march on!

"Class of '51, March On!"

The Daisy Chain and White Dresses

Enthusiastic Miss Davis

Sophomores! We could hardly believe that we were upperclassmen at last — upperclassmen, with vengeance for freshmen on Rat Day . . . recalling our embarrassment when we were "rats"—upperclassmen, brightening the campus with our red, red jackets . . . marching around the Dining Hall when they were new . . . and our pride in our Class Chairman, Miss Dorothy Davis.

Yes, our day had come! Bridge until all hours of the night . . . unlimited week-ends for football games and dances at Carolina, State, and Duke . . . the Sophomore formal . . . and then the serious side . . . hours spent in the library with history books and psychology readings . . . reading Chaucer until the small hours of the morning . . . upperclassmen, really feeling as if we were important when elections came and we ran for campus offices and realized we were almost Juniors . . . singing "Class of '51" at Mass Meetings and taking the Junior seats at the last Mass Meeting.

Halfway through college—was the hardest part over, or was it still to come? . . . feeling a tinge of sadness as we exchanged serenades with our sister class and carried the Daisy Chain at their graduation.

Yes, we were Sophomores, and our days at Woman's College were flying by. We were making our mark and living to the fullest . . . "CLASS OF '51. MARCH ON!"

The Class of '52

Class Song

Yes, we're the Class of Fifty-Two
Our service we will render
To thee, our dear old W. C.
And all who will defend her.

Yes, we'll strive to make her glory shine
With faith and loyalty.
So come on, Class of Fifty-Two,
We're all for W. C.

Class Motto

Let us match our words with deeds

Freshman Law Book

"Yes, We're The Class Of Fifty-Two"

What a Day!

Applications actually accepted — thank goodness they didn't ask for pictures—new clothes bought, and at last, the grand arrival! . . . "What's happened to my trunk—isn't it ever going to get here—do you suppose Miss Moxley will find it under the bed? . . . "Where's my roommate—I wanta see what she looks like! . . . "Why can't we put scotch tape on the walls —why must there be rats, even in the closets?" . . .

Project No. 1—Clean Up the Hubbub

Home Was Never Like This

"Golly, exams the first week! Why do we have to know what's in the handbook anyway?" . . . Exchanging sandals for good sturdy oxfords for that cross country hike to meet advisors . . . "Say, which would be easier—music appreciation or health?" . . . Rat Day—no, nuff said! . . .

Freshman mixers—MEN!! New faces, new dance steps . . . "Nineteen on my posture picture! But I don't really stand like that. Oh well, I wanted to take Body Mechanics next semester anyhow!" . . .

Cleaning up the Hubbub—"now we can push the upperclassmen around!" . . . Freshman commission elected—big wheels on campus! . . . The Yearling—some Bronte's in our midst . . . "At last, our class song! Now we can hold our heads high in mass meetings!" . . .

Closed study, tests, dates, dances, hall boards, long awaited cuts—"Well whattya' know, we're sophomores!!!" . . .

COMMERCIALS

Class Song

All hail, hail to W. C.
We the Commercials sing.
We'll honor and love thee,
Even through eternity.

We'll cherish the memories
Of all you hold dear,
And carry your standards
Down through the years.

All hail, hail to W. C.
We the Commercials sing.
We pledge to thee always
Love and loyalty.

Time for Learning

Time for Living

All in one year we learned the arts of business and the fun of living and working together as students at W. C. We'll never forget our first chapel period and finding seats in the section of the balcony that became "home" for us every Tuesday. We had to encounter those mysterious looking machines that are so familiar to us now; we met our faculty, too, and made fast friends with them. How can we ever forget the Halloween party they gave us . . . square dancing in the Hut . . . roaring fires in the fireplaces . . . and our august professors arriving on broomsticks??? Our memories include the excitement, too, of planning a return party and trying to outdo them in originality

Learning Our Lesson in Respect

. . . the teas we gave . . . to the class of '48 at their reunion . . . to our guest speakers . . . to our parents at Christmas, when we really put on the dog and had our newly elected officers as guests of honor. We remember the dorm parties in Hinshaw and that corner of the Town Students' Room reserved for the Commercial students from Greensboro, who got together to plan a tour of the city for those of us who ordinarily never saw more than the route from the corner to the Carolina Theater.

Our kaleidoscope of memories from this year reminds us of the thrill we felt when we got our class pins; they were our badge of membership . . . we think of class meetings at one o'clock, when we practiced singing our song in preparation for the all-important mass meeting, when we were recognized by the rest of the school and our sister class, the juniors, stood up for us. The week-end we remember best, of course, was the one in March, when we had our dance, and all the wonderful things that went along with it. Mary and Martha and their committee chairmen arranged a magnificent time for all of us . . . the orchestra, refreshments, cards, everything! Finally of course, there's the last mass meeting, at the end of the year, when we marched out of Aycock, singing our class song, and a few days later, got those certificates we worked for so hard. It was a grand year.

the organizations of the Woman's College function smoothly for the good of the whole. The elections board, the Honor board, the points committee, the curriculum committee, the finance board, the Faculty-Student Reviewing committee to mention a few . . . the Legislature, the Judicial Board, the executive officers of the Student Government Association, the Service League to mention some more, have their share in the administration of this community. This is our laboratory for democratic living and the extent to which students participate in the activities of these organizations determines, in large measure, the effectiveness of our democracy. We have discussed honor and practiced what we believed . . . we have campaigned hotly and then supported wholeheartedly the winner . . . we have changed our traditional representation in legislature, realizing the evolutionary nature of government of any kind . . . we have debated issues and faced problems rationally in the legislative forum . . . we have set up our own standards of conduct and dispensed judgment accordingly . . . we have attempted to put into actuality the best theoretical knowledge of the classroom. We are attempting to live what we learn!

Student

Martha Fowler, President of Student Government Association

"Responsible freedom" is the keynote of the Student Government Association on the campus of the Woman's College. The phrase, "responsible freedom", was first used by the late Dean Harriet Elliott who was an inspiration in early days of Student Government, and it well characterizes every policy of this organization whose membership is made up of the students of Woman's College — students who feel a sense of responsibility in assuming the freedoms which they enjoy.

Elected in the spring, the new officers took over their duties in the closing weeks of school, guided in their new tasks by the retiring leaders. A conference of student leaders and faculty members was held in early September in order to plan the work for the coming year, and new ideas, with their resulting problems, were discussed in an atmosphere of earnestness and seriousness which brought forth the best in attempts for a sound foundation for Student Government work. Check-up Conference was held in early December to follow through on plans which were so hopefully laid at Pre-school Conference.

Responsible Freedom

Marilyn McCollum,
Vice-President, S.G.A.

The three branches of the Student Government Organization—Executive, Legislative, and Judicial—were all under capable student leaders. Martha Fowler, as President, was chairman of Judicial Board, conducted Mass Meetings, and exercised general executive powers. As vice-president, Marilyn McCollum headed Legislature and handled other duties such as assigning chapel seats and assisting with the Handbook. This year was an active one for Legislature which passed on new student rules and also offered for student approval, two amendments to the Constitution which provided for more effective student government. The Judicial Board worked long over standardization of maximum and minimum Hall Board rulings—a new policy of Student Government, and Jane Edmunds, as Secretary, was given the responsibility for keeping records of Judicial and Hall Board cases. Claire McCall, Treasurer, handled the financial records of the association and acted as secretary of Legislature.

New students were acquainted with the Honor Policy of the school through such measures as the Student Government program given for the Freshmen during Orientation Week. An awareness that the freedoms with which students are entrusted are based on a sense of responsibility in upholding them, was the underlying theme of this program which inspired the newcomers to do their share as citizens of this community and as citizens-in-training of a much larger community. This training for a responsible citizenship is the aim of the Student Government Association which furthers these aims by giving opportunities for freedom in an atmosphere of democracy.

Judicial Board

Judicial Board is the student judiciary authority entrusted with handling all major offenses. Hall Boards in each dormitory, consisting of a Judicial Board member, the house president, and four girls from the dormitory, handle all minor offenses, but the major cases are heard before Judy Board. The board records and reviews all Hall Board cases and may act as a court of appeals for Hall Board sentences if so desired.

Judicial Board is made up of a faculty member, who acts in an advisory capacity, the president of the Student Government Association, who presides over the meeting, the secretary of the Student Government Association, who acts as secretary to the board, the Honor Board Chairman, five seniors and two juniors.

Judicial Board works with corrective rather than punitive measures in mind. It tries to instill the idea of responsible freedom and a democratic way of life. In judging each case, the board takes into consideration the individual and the circumstances in order to reach a fair and impartial decision.

Young Women's

Frances Ferguson
President

The Young Women's Christian Association this year, through the channels of the class clubs and the cabinet, has been the focal point of an indispensable phase of campus life. Our chapter has as a keynote to its activities the purpose of the national Y.W.C.A. "We unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people. In this task, we seek to understand Jesus and to follow him."

The Cabinet, composed of thirty-five members, meets every Monday night and serves as director of the individual class clubs.—Seven groups . . . senior, junior, sophomore, and four freshman clubs, meet weekly and carry out various projects. These clubs, which welcome members of all faiths . . . Catholic, Jewish, Protestant . . . are the wheel of the campus organization.

"Y" activities are many. This year the class clubs have knitted afghans for overseas relief; adopted war orphans and provided for their needs; made scrapbooks, bookmarks, collected magazines for the polio center in Greensboro. Besides these projects, for the first time this year, the "Y" has sponsored vespers every night in the Religious Activities Center, provided "Y" teen leadership, strengthened Student-Faculty relations with panel discussions and open-houses in the dormitories, opened again the "Y" hut for Saturday night entertainment and dancing. At Christmas, the Freshman "Y" clubs once again carried out the "Hanging of the green" tradition, when the groups sang carols and hung wreaths on the dormitory doors. In connections with the annual Social Science and Arts Forums, the "Y" sponsored programs to prepare the students for active, comprehensive participation. In February, an International Bazaar and dance was held, the proceeds going to the World Student's Service Fund.

During the year, successful deputations were held with several nearby colleges: State, Carolina, Davidson. The "Y" sent representatives to the Ecumenical Conference held at Christmas time in Lawrence, Kansas; the conference on Applied Christianity in Raleigh and Salisbury; the State YM-YW retreat at Camp Nawawkwa, near Randleman; and various program-planning conferences held through the year.

During the summer, the president attended President's School at New York's Union Theological Seminary, a school designed to meet the needs of "Y" leaders. The vice-president attended the regional YM-YW Interracial Conference held at Berea College, in Berea, Kentucky. The "Y" has initiated a leadership training program for the preparation of potential leaders to assume their jobs with capability and a knowledge of their responsibilities.

The Young Women's Christian Association under the guidance of Miss Maxine Garner, director of Religious Activities, is the integrating force on the campus in the creation and perpetuation of genuine understanding among the students.

Unique among the campus organizations is the Interfaith Council. Composed of all campus-represented faiths and religions, it meets bi-monthy to incorporate its plans and beliefs into a functional part of the students' life.

This year, the Interfaith Council has helped with vespers; worked with the Interracial-Intercollegiate Commission; organized dorm-devotional leaders for instruction in their job; sponsored faculty study-groups; and begun the "cell" idea of Bible-study.

The Interfaith Council has sought to promote an understanding of the value of all religions and to give us a knowledge of the good which is corporate within each one.

Service League

Martha Guion — Chairman

"Our Motto Service Will Remain . . ."

And Service we will do, and as we serve, our hearts will turn oh, College, dear to you." And thus it was through service each of us began to feel that we were indeed a vital part of our school. We called it "Service through Understanding". We understood the part that we might play, and enthusiastically we joined together to give not only of our money and our effort—but to give ourselves in Service.

Under the leadership of Mot Guion the Service League with its many drives and projects reached new heights of achievement. An example of "Service through Understanding" herself, Mot was the inspiration and the guiding force of the entire program of activities.

"Build for tomorrow today" we said as the Campus Purse Drive went into full swing. "Let's give 100%", pleaded Beam. Going, going, gone, as the cooperative faculty were sold for their talents to eager students. The thermometer rose, slowly at times, but to a new high of $4,472.00—all for relief and rehabilitation. Blisters from raking leaves — tired arms from carrying trays — depleated closets, as Mary took any and everything for the clothing drive. "CARE needs our support", urged Marilyn as each hall joined with her to make of giving not a duty, but a pleasure. And still we wanted more to do, and as other tasks appeared we met them willingly. The floor leaders, the faithful hall leaders, the committee chairmen and the faculty sponsors, supported by the 2200 students rose to serve, and as we served our hearts did turn, oh College, dear to you.

Woman's College Chamber Music Players

Under the direction of Mr. George Dickieson, this group stands as a unique organization in this section. They play with the Greensboro orchestra, for the Enterpe Club, for the Arts Forum, and also for out of town concerts.

Greensboro Orchestra

With a membership of approximately sixty-five, drawn from the college and the community of Greensboro, and under the direction of Dean H. Hugh Altvater, the orchestra gives four public performances a year. It has achieved an interpretive excellence which has been highly commended by visiting musicians.

The Choir

The Woman's College choir of more than 150 blended voices under the direction of Mr. George M. Thompson, each year captures the spirit of Christmas in its unforgettable midnight carol concert. This year's concert was recorded by RCA. and copies of the records were made available to the students. Inspired by the appearance of the Robert Shaw Chorale on the Civic Music Series early in the season, the choir did especially outstanding work, and was particularly rewarded by the high compliments from University Sermon speakers. One of the choir's most satisfying accomplishments this year, too, was its work in conjunction with the orchestra at commencement.

Heads up . . . hand me that screw driver . . . walk that flat, now run it over there . . . where? Everyone is confused, but somehow it all works out and Gunny finally gives the cue and the curtain rises.

Of course there were actors' problems too . . . stand up . . . more expression . . . louder . . . project . . . learn your lines and then the words . . . remember curtain up at 8:00 tomorrow night . . . make-up at 6:00.

No one seems to really mind. We have our sayings which get us by, such as: "Save the human race", "Save the family," "Enjoy yourselves", "You don't have to be crazy to work down here, but it helps."

Something new was tried this year down in Aycock. We began the year off with a one act play especially for the Freshmen. Then they were welcomed by the president of the Masqueraders, Natalie Bates, and Mr. Taylor. After this there was a conducted tour of Aycock. All this was done to stimulate Freshman interest. The outcome has pleased us all.

The Player-Likers

Time...Night and Day

The first major production of the year was "Skin of Our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder. For their superb performance many thanks are given to Esther Samuelson, Mutt Burton, and Joan Taylor, a freshman. The second show was "The Way of the World" by William Congreve. The leading roles were taken by Nancy Platter, Dolly Davis, Susan Alderman, Page Chamberlain: Audrey Blackburn, Kitty Longhead, Mimi Tempko, Ann Edwards, Larry Lambeth, and John Courtney. Other productions for the year were the Arts Forum bill of experimentals, and "The Media".

With the aid of the drama committee things have gone forward. With their assistance we have been able to have Freshmen work with us. It takes very little to become a Playliker. All you need is interest in the theater, excess energy, a pair of blue-jeans, and an old shirt. (Oh yes! a raincoat.) The Playliker officers come from our honor group—Masqueraders. This year's officers were Natalie Bates, president; Ruth Gill, vice-president; Eulene Fisher, secretary-treasurer; Audrey Blackburn, publicity; and Barbara Edinger, business manager.

created something of which we may well be proud. And similar ink-stained orchids belong to her cohort, Margaret Spencer, for the business end of this little project.

It all started last spring when the theme of LIVING AND LEARNING was conceived by the editors. And with the theme came the necessity of finding someone to live and learn with, in other words, a staff. Looking back now we remember early fall when Sara Lockwood was scouting for faculty pictures. . . . Betty Crawford trailing Helene and Mr. Campbell. . . . Helen Mamber looking for the social side of life . . . and Sammy Samuelson tracking down the "Typical". And the class editors, Jean, Jane, Kat, Marjorie with their duties growing heavier as their class progress upward on the ladder. We all felt knee-high to an earthworm when Nan Kendall and her staff of artists presented their finished work before Thanksgiving. That record has never been topped. Happy little typists would have been so much happier if everyone else could have gotten their printed matter in so soon. But, alas, the literary staff, while not the temperamental artists, could not be hurried, and the first week in February found Ruth chasing Beam and Beam chasing Townsend and Townsend chasing the roommate that can spell. As Ruth chased Beam, Beam went on the war path for all the literary staff, and by the absolute deadline, even Ruth was happy. Helene and her troop of photographers saw daylight break over the Science building many mornings, but they too managed to meet the deadline.

And that is just about the way it happened. Handle the PINE NEEDLES with care—look at all the pictures, read all the text, for we, the staff of '49 have truly lived and learned with it.

With our inviting clubs and varied activities offered each season, the Recreation Association tempted every freshman, every sophomore, every junior, and every senior to do just this.

R. A. chapel program was a very entertaining one in which the Recreation Association was the victor in a big election campaign, using its excellent program and activities as its platform. A campus wide square dance, sponsored by the joint efforts of the Recreation Association and social planning council, and conducted by Mr. Gene Gowing, a national authority on dance, highlighted early December. Modern Dance Group again entered the limelight during the 6th Annual Arts Forum, and in a highly entertaining chapel program. Dolphin-Seal Club once more thrilled spectators with its annual water pageant. Golf Club gave valuable instruction to interested students, and Camp Counselors Club had as a worthy project the improvement of R. A. Camp.

Fall and winter dessert suppers completed each respective season. Here

Fall season was made colorful with practices in hockey and speedball. These were climaxed by a round robin tournament and play day with a neighboring college. Tennis and volley ball tournaments were other highlights.

December days forced us inside, and basketball was begun with enthusiasm. Highly contested tournaments began in February. Then came a basketball play day at which W. C. was hostess to several other colleges in the state. On Tuesday afternoons, there were stunts and apparatus enthusiasts who vaulted, swung, and tumbled to the tune of "gym meet, gym meet, here we come!"

"St . . . rike three . . . and you're out!" With this in mind came our third sports season which would strike us "out" for the year '48-'49. On the first pretty spring day, softball fans ventured forth to the diamond well-equipped with balls, bats, and gloves. Tennis courts again became crowded, archers improved their aim at the "bull's eye", and golfers got into the swing of things.

COLLEGE SOCIAL CHAIRMAN CHIEF MARSHAL

Social Planning Council

The Social Planning Council, headed by Susan Dawson, College Social Chairman, is made up of the Hall social leaders, representatives from the Societies, Recreation Association, Y.W.C.A., and the Town Students Association. Mrs. G. H. Andrews and Miss Elvira Prondecki are the advisors. It is the duty of the council to promote an integrated campus social program which offers to all students opportunities for social activity.

Outstanding activities included in the Council's program for the year 1948-1949 were a chapel program presenting the council to the students, an elections-return party in November, a campus-wide bridge tournament, a square dance in December, and a Country Fair in the spring at which the Societies operated concessions. Working through the Council, the four Societies also sponsored the sale of sandwiches to student delegations to football games, Rat Day with its banquet, and the annual society formals.

The Council acted as a clearing house for problems which confronted the hall social chairmen. Under the guidance of the Council each hall was responsible for community sings preceding movies in Aycock, and carried out the various social activities in their own halls. The Council this year has endeavored to present a well-rounded and diversified social life, which it hopes has reached every student in some phase.

DAY AT W. C.

Robin Hood Entertains For The Queen Of The May

On this May Day we were magically transported to Sherwood Forest to witness Robin Hood's celebration held in honor of the crowning of the Queen of the May. The Queen, lovely in her white dress, held court in the forest surrounded by her entire retinue. The maids of honor and the members of the court, as fresh and as beautiful as the spring itself, wore dresses of cool green covered with white net, large picture hats, and carried baskets of spring flowers.

The entertainment was furnished by Robin Hood's friends, while he sat at the feet of the Queen, announcing the different acts and recounting some of his adventures. Present were Friar Tuck, Little John, and Will Scarlet, without whom the afternoon would have been incomplete. There were archery exhibits, English folk dancing, and a group of modern dancers, who furnished the background for several of the acts. The entertainers were dressed in the traditional reds, greens, oranges, brown, and yellows of the forest.

The highlight of the afternoon came when Robin Hood ended the festivities with the crowning of the Queen and the entertainers gracefully executed the May Pole Dance.

After this year, they will probably dedicate bronze markers to the chairs on which the class of '49 spent all their afternoons and evenings. GOLDEN CHAIN of Nineteen Forty-Nine

Golden Chain is the realization of dreams of students of several college generations who have felt the need for an active, local, honorary society on Woman's College campus. In accordance with this need Golden Chain was initiated in the Spring of 1948 and is this year striving to lay the foundation for an organization which will grow with the years and will gradually become a part of the many accepted traditions of the college. Recognizing seniors and juniors who have shown sincere and devoted service, the group is working individually and collectively to continue this service to the college and ultimately to awaken in past and present day students the democratic spirit and greatness of purpose which the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina embodies.

Social Science

"The twin goals of freedom and security" was the focal point about which the Second Annual Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum was centered: a theme which challenged the thinking not only of every student at the Woman's College but of citizens throughout the state and nation. The timeliness of the topic was enough to arouse interest in itself; the excellence with which it was explored ranked it among the finest accomplishments in the history of the college. An attempt was made to analyze candidly a few of the most basic questions facing our civilization. Those who attended the Forum had a very special opportunity of hearing a panel of outstanding thinkers in the various social sciences debating as well as expounding ideas.

Among the experts, Frank T. deVyver, Edwin G. Nourse, William Poteat, and Broadus Mitchell.

Forum...1948

Behind the scenes of the Forum were the faculty and student committees which worked hard and long on the details that made the three day session possible. Their tasks ranged from securing the speakers to making center pieces for luncheon tables, and included the tremendous job of publicizing the Forum adequately. They sent out programs and invitations to a long list of individuals and groups throughout the southeast, but they concentrated their efforts on informing every segment of the student body about the events of the Forum. Through dormitory discussions, campus-wide lectures, radio programs, and panel discussions in clubs they interested students in every major. Their work secured for the Forum a rightfully paramount place in the lives of every one concerned with Woman's College.

Henry Cowell

This year, for the sixth time on the Woman's College campus, the Annual Arts Forum furnished invaluable personal contacts and professional criticism for student writers, artists, musicians, dramatists, and dancers. Designed on a small scale in 1943 to stimulate student creative effort, the expanded 1949 Forum attracted entries in the various artistic fields from colleges throughout the South and from the North and

Departmental Doings

Departmental spirit and interest extend beyond the classroom when many departments sponsor special events for the whole campus. Such occasions are Spanish Night, French Night, the Textile Exhibit and other displays in the Witherspoon Art Gallery, Gym Meet from the Physical Education Department, and the Home Economic Carnival and open houses.

A Wish Come True

"All Honor To Your

and as we live and learn within the walls of this place that we have pleased to call "home" the satisfactions received from jobs well done, will remain always with us. In this many-sided life, this integrated existence of ours, there has been a time and a place for everything. We took the time in the fall to raise $4,472 for world student relief and rehabilitation through our annual Campus Purse Drive. When November 2 rolled around, we set up our own polling places and forecast the national result in the presidential upset. No greater excitement prevailed in any politician's quarters than the tension in the smoke-filled rooms of W. C.

In this legislative year we organized to exert pressure on North Carolina legislators to give us the means to keep the Woman's College second to none. The Greater University Council found able leaders in our representatives and staunch supporters in our entire student body. The Golden Chain in its first year of activity justified the hopes of those who so desired a functioning honorary organization on the Woman's College campus. These are the things that distinguish 1949 from other years. We have major construction activity pounding away right here in the midst of us. Those orange girders and rough cement will be, before too long, the realization of a magnificent dream. Dr. Jackson started that dream on its way early this fall.

Aside from the big things that have made this a different year there are those tasks whose successful completion during another school year makes us proud of the Woman's College. The infinite committee meetings attended by faculty and students, the bi-monthly meetings of our student legislature with the successful amendments passed by the student body . . . the activities of the judicial branch of our student government and their intelligent compromise between uniformity and individuality . . . the weekly product of the Carolinian staff, a paper "Distinguished for its Democracy" . . . class meetings, mass meetings, house meetings, all an important part of our democratic system of government . . . executive excellence on the part of the Student Government officers and house presidents. . . . All of these phases of life, these contributions have given us experience, tolerance, understanding, have given us a sense of values, a truer conception of "Responsible Freedom".

The excellence of the Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum and the Arts Forum is due in great measure to the dreams and efficiency of the combined efforts of students and faculty. Through such media as these we have seen the problems of the world in which we are to live, the needs and the potential greatness: we have seen the beauty of this world and of other worlds and we are better prepared to appreciate it. We who are Seniors have a wealth of memories which will be ours forever. Nothing can take away from us the pride in our college, the liberal education which we have received, the lifetime friendships which we shall share. Ours forever are walks among the Spring dogwood, good night cigarettes on the pier at R. A. Camp, the satisfaction of earning a good grade, the quiet inspiration of a dorm devotion, the devotion to a cause, the sincere encouragement of an interested teacher, the mingled pride and sadness of the Founder's Day program. Ours forever is the spirit of this place, this community of interests, this fund of ideas. We have given of ourselves to the Woman's College, and it has given of itself to each of us. The Class of 1949 with its blue jackets will soon be only a memory on this campus. But the spirit of this class will fuse quietly with the greatness of the College, and it is our sincere hope that this campus will be the better for our four years here.

We close the year and the 1949 PINE NEEDLES with sincere thanks to all who have contributed to the making and maintaining of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

"May God build for you a harmony
That will be both great and strong.
Making all your life a melody
And every day a song.
It is here in our hearts, O Sisters dear,
And we sing it now to you,
We love you, yes, we love you,
We love college and that means you."

Moving Forward with the South . . . .

The production of better type fabrics has grown to tremendous proportions in the South. Paralleling this outstanding progress made by the textile industry has been the resultant higher standard of living.

Burlington Mills is proud to be a part of this progress . . . proud of the fact that this Company has invested millions of dollars in the future of the South. By ever-expanding its own production, Burlington is contributing to the rapid increase in business activity—the yardstick of prosperity. For economic stability, Burlington maintains a program of financial soundness, reflected in its net worth of over $100,000,000.

Through this extensive program for economic progress, Burlington Mills' 83 plants have been able to produce the best possible products at the lowest possible prices. These quality fabrics are truly "woven into the life of America." That's why over 28,000 employees are going forward with Burlington Mills.

The Case of the Successful Family...

Or why the New Underwood Champion Portable offers the keys to better writing

Monday...

Father opened the case in the living room and proudly displayed the new, streamlined Champion . . . the handsomest portable typewriter the family had ever seen.

Tuesday...

Said Betty, "It's marvelous . . . such smooth, easy action . . . and what cleancut typing. Just wait until the history prof sees my typewritten notes."

Wednesday...

"It's neat," Bill exclaimed. "This way even writing compositions is a lot of fun. And, I'll have to talk to Dad about getting me an Underwood Champion when I go to college next year."

Every day...

One or more of the family take a turn on the Underwood Champion Portable. Mother has caught up on her correspondence. Father has written speeches, memos, and reports. Why not get a "Champion" in your home. You'll find it holds the keys that unlock the doors to advancement and progress . . . better work for the youngsters in school, modern writing convenience for the parents . . . and greater success for every member of the family. Ask your dealer for a demonstration . . . today.
